

The noise curve is measured from off-source data, not assumed

